

Performdigi

Process writing on school reading room 150-200 words

Write a factual description/process writing of the new Library-cum-Reading Room in your school for the Primary class students in 150-200 words. Include details of the layout, display facility, seating arrangement, etc.

SCHOOL READING ROOM

Library-cum-reading rooms are the real lungs of knowledge that washes away the pall of darkness and enlighten our spirit. National School Orangabad was set up last year and it was feeling a lack of library-cum-reading room has started functioning very decently.

It was inaugurated last month by the Governor of the club. It had as well equipped reading-room with separate chairs and tables especially to cater to the need of the primary students. Elaborate arrangements for children's books, magazines and newspapers give praise by all. There is enough sitting capacity in the hall and the books and charts are on display on the shelves.

The library provides all assistance to develop reading habits among the students. It has a separate portion of the newspapers. Books have been properly kept in the wooden almirahs and the students have easy access. It is fully ventilated and lighted. It will help in inculcating reading habits among the students.

SCHOOL READING ROOM

Write a factual description of the new Library-cum-Reading Room in your school for the Primary class students in 100-125 words. Include details of the layout, display facility, seating arrangement, etc.

SCHOOL READING ROOM

Library-cum-reading rooms are the real lungs of knowledge that washes away the pall of darkness and enlighten our spirit. National School Orangabad was set up last year and it was feeling a lack of library-cum-reading room has started functioning very decently. It was inaugurated last month by the Governor of the club. It had as well equipped reading-room with separate chairs and tables especially to cater to the need of the primary students. Elaborate arrangements for children's book, magazines and newspapers give praise by all. There is enough sitting capacity in the hall and the books and charts are on display on the shelves. The library provides all assistance to develop reading habits among the students. It has a separate portion for the newspapers. Books have been properly kept in the wooden almirahs and the students have easy access. It is fully ventilated and lighted. It will help in inculcating reading habits among the students.