Essay on a visit to the zoo in 200 to 250 words

I was going to Faizabad with my father. I expressed my desire to see the zoo at Lucknow on the way. He agreed and we got down at Lucknow.

After taking our bath and heavy refreshment we hired a tonga and reached the zoo. We bought our tickets and entered the zoo. As we entered the compound, we saw a small house surrounded by a wire net. Inside it, we saw a number of snakes of all the sizes and colour. For the first time in my life, I saw a grey snake as thin as the small finger. There were snakes called thons. They seemed to be two or three quintals heavy.

Then we saw a tank full of all kinds of coloured fish. They were leaping about and swimming beautifully in the clear water. In another tank, we saw a small hill and rocks on which a crocodile was basking. It got down and disappeared in the water.

We also saw many kinds of birds of all kinds and colours. The ostrich was as large as a camel. There was a large number of bright red little robins. They were singing. It was a beautiful scene. I saw many kinds of monkeys also.
